

Somerville

The origins of the Somerville Companies in South East Asia date back fifty years from modest beginnings in Hong Kong in 1958. Presently, separate Somerville Companies operate in five countries as full service regional centers effectively covering the whole of South East Asia.

A strong commitment to quality has, from the beginning, been the underlying philosophy behind our operations. Our aim has always been to provide our Customers with the best in Design, in Equipment, in Service and in Support.

To this end, our Companies have set up manufacturing plants in Thailand and China. We have been expanding our production capacity to cope with the expanding markets in the Asian and Australian regions. We manufacture such diverse products as commercial refrigerators, freezers, display cases for hot, cold and ambient temperature, wine display showcase, modular cold rooms, refrigeration coils, baking ovens, cooking ranges, stainless steel products etc. We have custom designed kitchens for leading hotel and commercial establishment throughout Asia. Our marketing coverage has been expanding beyond Asia to cover Australia, Middle East and Africa. We adhere to stringent quality policies under ISO 9001:2000 procedure.

To serve our customers better, we have highly trained service and installation teams backed by qualified engineers and large stocks of spare parts.

It is most gratifying that we have been able to keep pace with the challenges of an ever expanding tourism and business market. We have done this by providing the latest technology and by constantly updating equipment and expertise in order to provide the best available product to our Customers.

For 50 years, Somerville has a long and proven track record in the design and supply of Commercial Kitchen and Refrigeration products. This experience and expertise remains with us and is available to all our Customers, both large and small.
