BREAD SLICER

This robust slicer can be used to slice a comprehensive range of sandwich, vienna and high top loaves. Various continental breads including rye, grain and fruit loaves are also suitable.

The Curlflow slicer is proudly designed and manufactured in Australia. It is fitted with an essential variable weight pusher system suitable for crusty or soft loaves and is fully guarded meeting all safety regulations.

The smart space saving design makes it possible for the operator to load the machine from the front allowing the slicer to be placed against a wall.

Twin slice thickness 11mm & 14mm is standard however, other slice thicknesses are available on request.

Incorporating the latest in bakery technology the Curlflow slicer incorporates the patented long stroke operation providing superior slicing and longer blade life. All working surfaces are finished in stainless steel with last loaf cut off standard.

The unique curl shaped loading tray holds a maximum 7 loaves each side ensuring high production outputs can be achieved.
